Learning and Teaching Approach (tasks and activities designed to achieve learning outcomes):

Apart from the lectures, students would participate in outings by which they are introduced to, on the one hand, the historic sites that could exhibit the traditional social lives of Hong Kong people, and on the other the modern landscapes of Hong Kong. In addition, students are arranged to participate in community service projects to reinforce their hands-on understanding in the community. Students are required to attend seven tutorials and present their views on various aspects of the traditional and modern social lives in Hong Kong. Students are encouraged to focus on the cultural and social aspects of Hong Kong society.
